Petersburg, Sep. 24. O. S. The 20th Instant the Czar went to Cronslot, and having viewed the Condition of his largest Ships of War which are to Winter there, he returned hither last Night. The 26th his Czarian Majesty will be present at the launching one of the four Men of War which are now on the Stocks here. The least of them is to carry 50 Guns; and they are all very near finished. The Patriarch Sattowoff who is turned of 80, being to be married the 1st of next Month to a Lady not much younger, the Czar designs on that Occasion to give an Entertainment, in which his Majesty himself with his Master-Shipbuilders will appear in the Habit of Dutch Skippers, and he has ordered all the Courtiers to provide themselves with Dresses suitable to the Personages they are to represent, having taken a Fancy to assign the Serious Parts to those who are known to be of an airy Disposition and Carriage, and the Gay

Parts

[illegible] to thoſe who are of a grave Temper and Deportment.

Vienna Octob. 13. N. S. Yeſterday Morning their Imperial Majeſties ſet out for Presbourg, and this Afternoon they will make their publick Entry into that Town, where Preparations are made for their Reception. The Chancery, the Miniſters of the ſeveral Councils and the Deputies of all the Hereditary Countries are gone thither, as is likewiſe Sig. Spinola the Pope's Nuncio; and the other Foreign Miniſters are preparing to follow, to ſee the Ceremony of Crowning the Empreſs Queen of Hungary.

Hamburg, Octob. 23. N. S. The King of Denmark has returned an Anſwer to the Letter written to him by the Emperour in Favour of the young Duke Charles Frederick of Holſtein; which Anſwer we hear imports, that during the Adminiſtration of the Biſhop of Lubeck, his Majeſty cannot think it Convenient to reſtore that Dutchy, conſidering the ill Intentions which he Judges that Prelate has on all Occaſions ſhewn againſt the Northern Allies, and particularly in putting Tonninguen into the Hands of the Swedes; nor can his Majeſty comply with ſuch a Propoſition while the ſaid Duke continues among the Swedes, who are the Enemies of Denmark; but if that young Prince will come and reſide in a neutral Place, as at Hambourg or Lubeck, his Majeſty will not fail to furniſh him with a conſiderable Sum out of the Revenues of Holſtein, to enable him to live like a Prince of his Birth, and to reſtore his Dominions to him aſſoon as may be. 'Tis adviſed from Copenhagen, that a Negotiation is carrying on between the Court of Denmark and that of Pruſſia; the Drift of which Negotiation we underſtand is to engage his Pruſſian Majeſty to aſſiſt Denmark, in Caſe of any Attempt from the Heſſians, or from the Swedes in Pomerania, and to ſettle a mutual Guarantie of the Advantages to be Stipulated for each Party; and 'tis ſuppoſed the Czar is to come into this Agreement.

Genoa, October 16. N. S. The 7th Inſtant the Cardinal our Archbiſhop went to San Pier d' Arena in a Coach with 6 Horſes, followed by other Coaches of his Train, in which were the Gentlemen of his Chamber and the reſt of his Retinue, to make a Viſit to the Queen of Spain, who received him with all Marks of Eſteem, obliging him to ſit covered, and kept him an Hour in Converſation, during which ſhe informed her ſelf what Hour was proper for her to come into this City the next Day to ſee our Cathedral; and accordingly the 8th in the Afternoon her Majeſty with the Princeſs of Piombino came hither in a Coach drawn by 6 Horſes ſent to her with the Liveries of this Republick, preceeded by the Coaches of the French and Spaniſh Envoys, and of the Duke de Turſis, a Company of Foot attending and the publick Guards walking on each Side of her Coach, and followed by ſeveral Coaches in which were the Cardinal Acquaviva, the Ladies and Gentlemen of her Court: At the Door of the Cathedral her Majeſty was received by the Cardinal our Archbiſhop with the Chapter and the reſt of the Clergy of that Church, and led up to the High Altar where is a Crucifix with ſome of the Wood of the true Croſs, and thence to the Chappel where the Aſhes of St. John Baptiſt are kept, both which ſhe viewed with proper Acts of Devotion; and having received the Benediction, ſhe made a Tour through the principal Streets of the Town, and in the Evening returned to San Pier d' Arena. The 9th ſhe proceeded on her journey by Land, in the ſame Coach with 6 Horſes belonging to this State, the Artillery firing three Rounds at her Departure. She dined that Day at Voltri and lay at Arenzano, and the 10th arrived at Savonet where ſhe was welcomed with a triple Diſcharge of the Cannon, and conducted by the Governor to Lodgings provided for her. As ſoon as her Majeſty was gone [illegible] Cardinal Acquaviva imbarked in a Galley of his [illegible] Duke's which waited for him, to carry him back to Leghorne, whence he will go through Tuſcany to Rome, having the Day before performed the Ceremony of committing her Majeſty to the Care of the Marquis de los Balbaſes, who is to conduct her to Madrid. During her Stay on the Territories of this State a Battallion of Soldiers ſerved for her Guard, but our Government did not make her a Viſit while ſhe was at San Pier d' Arena, becauſe her Majeſty ſignified to them that ſhe was travelling incognito under the Name of the Princeſs of Parma. Yeſterday put to Sea the 6 Spaniſh Men of War for Toulon, to wait her Majeſty's Pleaſure whether ſhe will imbark there or go all the reſt of the way by Land. The Britiſh Men of War Rumney and Kinſale, are not yet ſailed from hence for Port-Mahon.

Paris, Oct. 27. N. S. Letters from Barcelona of the 22d of September confirm, That the Marſhal Berwick has made an intire Change of the Government of that Capital, and of Catalonia in general, where all remains quiet, and none of the Inhabitants will any more be ſuffered to keep Arms. The King having received Advice, That the Queen of Spain, not being able to bear a Sea-Voyage has reſolved to make the Journey incognito by Land through France, his Majeſty has ſent M. des Granges, Maſter of the Ceremonies, to take Orders from her Catholick Majeſty, in what Manner ſhe will be received in thoſe Places through which ſhe is to paſs.

Hague, Oct. 26. N. S. The Prince of Anhalt Koeten, and the Princeſs of Wolffentels, Aunt to the Princeſs of Wales, who came hither to meet Her Royal Highneſs, ſet out Yeſterday on their return Home. The Count and Counteſs of Hanau, Her Royal Highneſs's Siſter, with the young Counteſs her Daughter, together with the Count and Counteſs of Waldeck, and the Abbeſs of Schagen, who came hither for the ſame Purpoſe, and deſign to return in a few Days, dined to Day at the Earl of Strafford's as did alſo Prince William of Heſſe. The Diſtemper and Mortality among the Cattle beginning to appear again in theſe Provinces the States of Holland and Weſt Friſeland have publiſhed a new Placart, for preventing by ſeveral Regulations the ſpeading of the Contagion. 'Tis adviſed from Maeſtricht, That ſome Troops of the Elector Palatine, who had lately taken Poſſeſſion of the Caſtle of Keſſenick, in favour of a Gentleman of the Palatine Court, who had ſome Pretenſions to that Eſtate, had been obliged to retire from thence at the approach of a Body of Dutch Forces detached from the Garriſons of Maeſtricht, Venlo, Ruremonde, and Steventwarr.

St. James's, October 20. This Day being appointed for the Solemnity of the Coronation of his Sacred Majeſty King GEORGE, the ſame was performed at Weſtminſter in the manner following.

His Majeſty being come to Weſtminſter about Nine of the Clock, and having retired into the Court of Wards, the Nobility, and thoſe who formed the firſt part of the Proceeding being put in Order by the Heralds, came down in Solemn Proceſſion into Weſtminſter-Hall, where His Majeſty being Seated under His State, the Swords and Spurs were preſented to him, and laid upon the Table at the Upper End of the Hall.

Then the Dean and Prebendaries of Weſtminſter having brought the Crown and other Regalia, with the Bible, Chalice and Patten, they were preſented ſeverally to his Majeſty, and ſhortly after were, together with the Swords and Spurs, delivered to the Lords appointed to carry them.

Whereupon the Proceſſion began in this Manner: The Dean's Beadle of Weſtminſter, the high Conſtable of Weſtminſter with his Staff, Drums and Trumpets; ſix Clerks in Chancery two a breaſt, (as all the former Part of the Proceeding went) Chaplains having Dignities, Aldermen of London; Maſters in Chancery; the King's younger Serjeants; the Solicitor and Attorney-General; the King's ancient Serjeants; Gentlemen of the Privy-Chamber; Judges; Children of Weſtminſter, and of the King's Chapel; Choir of Weſtminſter, and Gentlemen tlemen of the Chapel, Prebendaries of Weſtminſter; Maſter of the Jewel Houſe, and Privy-Councellors not Peers, all in their proper Habits, as uſually at Coronations.

Then two Purſuivants of Arms; Barons in their Crimſon Velvet Robes, with their Coronets in their Hands (Two a-breaſt as all the Peers went) Biſhops; a Herald of Arms; Viſcounts; two Heralds of Arms; Earls, two Heralds of Arms; Marquiſſes; two Heralds of Arms; Dukes; two Kings of Arms with their Coronets; the Lord Privy-Seal; Lord Preſident of the Council; Lord Archbiſhop of York; Lord Chancellor; two Perſons repreſenting the Duke of Aquitain and Normandy.

Next the Lords who bore the Regalia, viz. The Earl of Salisbury, St. Edward's Staff; the Lord Viſcount Longueville, the Spurs; the Earl of Dorſet and Middleſex, the Scepter with the Croſs; the Earl of Sutherland, Pembroke and Lincoln the three Swords; then Garters-Deputy with his Coronet, between the Uſher of the Black Rod and the Lord Mayor of London; then the Lord Great-Chamberlain of England ſingle; then his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, in his Robes of Eſtate of Crimſon Velvet, furr'd with Ermine, his Coronet ſet with precious Stones, and Cap born by the Earl of Hertford, on a Crimſon Velvet Cuſhion, and wearing a like Cap of Crimſon Velvet, turn'd up with Ermine, by his Majeſty's Royal Permiſſion, his Train ſupported by Auguſtus Schutz and Adolphus Oughton, Eſqs; the two Eldeſt Gromes of his Royal Highneſs's Bed-Chamber, aſſiſted by Henry Killigrew, Eſq; Gentleman of his Royal Highneſs's Robes; the Earl of Derby with the Sword of State, between the Duke of Mountague Lord High Conſtable for that Day, and the Earl of Suffolk and Bindon as Earl Marſhal of England; the Duke of Grafton Lord High Steward on that Occaſion with the Crown, between the Duke of Argile bearing the Scepter with the Dove, and the Duke of Somerſet with the Orb; the Biſhop of Saliſbury with the Bible, between the Biſhop of Litchfield and Coventry with the Patten, and the Biſhop of Bangor with the Chalice.

Then the King in his Royal Robes of Crimſon Velvet, furr'd with Ermine, and border'd with a rich broad Gold Lace, wearing the Collar of the Order of St. George, (as did all the Knights of the ſaid Order) and the Knights of the Order of St. Andrew, wore likewiſe the Collar of that Order, and on his Head a Cap of Eſtate of Crimſon Velvet, turn'd up with Ermine, adorn'd with a Circle of Gold enrich'd with Diamonds; ſupported by he Biſhops of Durham and Bath and Wells, under a Canopy born by the Barons of the Cinque Ports; his Train born by four Noblemens eldeſt Sons, viz. the Lord Walden, the Lord Mandevile, the Lord Rialton, and the Lord Deſford, aſſiſted by the King's Vice-Chamberlain, in the abſence of the Maſter of the Robes; the Serjeants at Arms and Gentlemen Penſioners going on each ſide.

The Regalia and Canopy.

Next followed the Captain of his Majeſty's Horſe-Guard, between the Captain of the Yeomen of the Guard and the Captain of the Band of Gentlemen Penſioners with the Lieutenant and Standard Bearer of the Gentlemen Penſioners on either Hand of them, and the Officers and Yeomen of the Guard clos'd the Proceeding.

Thus the whole Proceeding march'd on Foot upon Blue Cloth to Weſtminſter Abbey, and the Houſes on each ſide being crouded with vaſt numbers of Spectators, expreſſing their great Joy and Satisfaction by loud and repeated Acclamations.

Being enter'd the Church, and all duly ſeated and placed, the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who perform'd this great Solemnity, began with the Recognition, which ended with a great ſhout from each ſide of the Theatre: Then his Majeſty made his firſt Oblation, and the Lords who bore the Regalia, preſented them at the Altar: The Litany was Sung on the Eaſt ſide of the Theatre by the Biſhops of Litchfield and Coventry and Norwich; and after the Epiſtle, Goſpel, and the Nicene Creed, the Biſhop of Oxford preached on this Text, Pſal. 118. v. 24. This is the Day which the Lord hath made we will rejoice and be glad in it.

After Sermon his Majeſty repeated and ſigned the Declaration or Teſt Eſtabliſhed by Act of Parliament, and then took the Coronation Oath; which he likewiſe Subſcrib'd, and in King Edward's Chair, placed in the middle of the Area before the Altar, was Anointed and preſented with the Spurs, and girt with the Sword, and veſted with his Purple Robes; and having received the Ring, the Orb and Scepters, was ſolemnly Crown'd about Two of the Clock, the People expreſſing their Joy with loud and repeated Acclamations, the Drums beating, Trumpets ſounding and the great Guns being diſcharged; whereupon his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales and the Peers put on their Coronets, and the Biſhops their Caps, the Dukes of Aquitain and Normandy their Hats, and the Kings of Arms their Coronets.

Then the Holy Bible was preſented to his Majeſty by the Archbiſhop, and his Majeſty having received the Benediction, ſate down in his Chair, and then vouchſafed to kiſs the Archbiſhops and Biſhops; and being Inthroned, his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal did their Homages and ſeemingly kiſſed his Majeſty's Left Cheek, and afterwards touched the Crown, while the Treaſurer of the Houſhold threw about the Coronation Medals.

Then his Majeſty made his ſecond Oblation, and received the Holy Communion, and after the Final Prayers, retired into King Edward's Chapel, and being Veſted in his Robes of Purple Velvet, and the whole Proceeding being again put in Order, his Majeſty returned to Weſtminſter-Hall, wearing his Crown of State, and the Peers and Kings of Arms their Coronets.

The King dined at a Table at the upper End of the Hall, with his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales on his left Hand; and the Nobility and other Perſons of Quality were ſeated at their reſpective Tables, which were all ready furniſhed before their coming in; the Hot Meat or firſt Courſe for his Majeſty's Table, for which Space was left, was ſerved up with the proper Ceremony, being preceeded by the Officers, &c. of the Board of Greencloath, and by the Lord High Steward, between the Lord High Conſtable, and the Lord Marſhal on Horſeback.

And juſt before the Second Courſe, —— Dymoke Eſq; His Majeſty's Champion in Compleat Armour, rode into the Hall, between the Lord High Conſtable and Lord Marſhal before-mentioned, and performed the Challenge: After which, Garter's Deputy, attended by the other Officers of Arms, proclaim'd His Majeſty's Stile in Latin, French and Engliſh.

Dinner being Ended, and all Things performed with great Splendor and Magnificence, about Seven of the Clock His Majeſty returned to St. James's, the Day concluded with Bonfires, Illuminations, Ringing of Bells, and other Demonſtrations of a General Joy and Satisfaction.

Whitehall, Oct. 22. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint his Grace the Duke of Kent, to be Conſtable, Governor and Captain of Windſor-Caſtle, Keeper of the Parks, Forreſt and Warrens there, and Lieutenant of the ſaid Caſtle and Forreſt.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint the Right Honourable the Earl of Northampton, to be Conſtable of the Tower of London; and Hatton Compton, Eſq, to be Lieutenant of the ſaid Tower.
